

PDFHub

The quick PDF solution with easy and instant access

WHAT IS PDFHUB?

PDFHub is an online PDF tool set which provides user a quick tool for creating and editing pdf files as well as converting files, including images and Microsoft Office documents, into PDF files. Functions include OCR, Document Comparison, Export (to Word, Excel & PowerPoint), Business Card Reader, QR Code Generation., etc. As PDFHub supports for both PC and smartphone, you can perform personal or office works basically at any place with internet access.

FEATURES OF PDFHUB

OCR

By using the OCR feature of PDFHub, you can extract the text from the image file and convert the text to a searchable file format such as searchable PDF. Currently three languages are supported in OCR: English, Traditional Chinese and Simplified Chinese.

Document Comparison

You may encounter the situation which requires you to find out the differences of two document files. Instead of comparing the files line by line manually, you can use the Document Comparison feature to perform the automatic comparison of the documents.

The Document Comparison feature allows you to track changes, validate the documents' integrity, or prevent fraud in a faster and more effective way. Together with the OCR function, you could compare two paper-based documents, two electronic document or even a paper document with an electronic document. With the ability of highlighting all differences between documents in an intelligent manner, using the Document Comparison feature not only saves your manual effort, but also minimizes the risk of human errors.

Online PDF Editor

You may not need to edit a PDF document every day. However, sometimes you do need to fill in a form, sign an important document and even validate a document with the company chop. Usually, you need to print out the documents first before you can perform these actions on the physical paper.

By using the Online PDF Editor feature of PDFHub, you can perform all these actions on the PDF documents directly without printing them out. And due to the nature of cloud-based service, the Online PDF Editor does not require you to install any application to your laptop and smartphone. You only need an internet access, and you can perform all these actions via the browser directly.

Export Output to Various Formats

After performing the OCR or editing a PDF file, you can export the operation result out for further processing. The result can be exported as either a plain text or other document format, including Microsoft Words, Excel, PowerPoint and PDF, upon your request.

Business Card Reader

By integrating the business card recognition function, the Business Card Reader feature of PDFHub can help you to extract the contact information of multiple business cards in a quick and efficient way. You do not need to scan the business cards one by one anymore.

QR Code Generation

When you need to generate a QR code, you can make use of the QR Code Generation feature of PDFHub. You can even choose to print out the QR code if necessary.
